Skills

Through my various years of professional experience, I have achieved many valuable skills; namely, I have developed a strong leading quality when working in a team environment through coordinating the many campaigns to go through the system for Paygenus!

The next skill I have attained and would like to mention would be my strong communication skills through which were developed in while working in the fast food industry. I used those skills and they translated to the customer service work it takes to manage campaigns with WEX.

The third and final skill I would like to highlight would be a hard work ethic. I graduated with my associates degree in just 9 months in Human Resources Administration. I did this through countless nights of grinding and studying constantly in order to advance my career in the most efficient and proficient way.
